Red Wind Councils ~ Ohki's Non-Profit Organization

Our social justice 501(c)(3) organization is dedicated to sustainable projects with Maya people, including community stores, solar & water systems, alternative schools, medical projects, eco-farming & women's craft cooperatives. Red Wind Councils emerged in 1985 out of Ohki's solid work with indigenous people of Chiapas. Our organization is always striving to meet emerging needs & bring the work forward to more people. Ohki contributes 75% of her earnings to support Red Wind Councils & her Medicine centers dedicated to fostering Maya spirituality & Red Wind's community projects.

We warmly invite you to join us in our collective efforts to sustain the light of hope for justice in our world through your donations & monthly pledges to Red Wind Councils.

RAIN

FROG:

A Maya Water

Purification

A Limpia Ceremony

Sun, May 18 ~ 4PM to 6:30PM

Ohki gives a teaching on the importance of periodic purification as a rite of passage in our lives through honoring the power of Frog spirit & Water element in order to reveal our inner powers of regeneration & health. Frog healing ways, a small but powerful Maya totem, offer unique medicine to unroot the spiritual causes of soul losses, afflictions & illnesses. Traditional Limpia ceremonies offer thorough cleansing, restore health, clear our dream bodies from negativity & harmonize our environment. Done with sacred herbs & candles, this beautiful & powerful Maya ceremony involves the creation of a special altar dedicated to Frog spirit & the renewal of spring. Bring a sacred object to place on the altar.

- Experience a Maya Limpia to clear impurities of your physical, emotional & spiritual bodies & learn how to do your own Limpia for your health, well being & renewal
- Journey to the Water element for a deep regeneration of your inner source
- Drum with Ohki to Earth's waters for invoking the world healing of this precious sister element in our lives

Reservations necessary ~ $40

Maya Craft Benefit ~ at All Events @ Circles

For 3 decades, Ohki has been collaborating with Maya artisans by supporting the renewal of their traditional crafts, thereby providing real hope to Maya families in their resistance against abuses & grinding poverty.

Your purchase of these exquisite & unique creations brings essential support & encouragement for the Maya, while preserving their cultural heritage. Consider bringing the beauty of their talents to your homes & workspaces, & giving these exclusive pieces as gifts to friends & family, thus contributing to this vital cause.
